Sarah Fregeau, key – English
William Yong, cloud – Cantonese

Celebrated choreographer Peggy Baker shares the inspiration, methods, and motives for a cycle of solos that integrate choreography with spoken word. Five superb performers, each speaking a different language, illuminate the symbolic meaning of a word that is their theme. More languages are spoken in Toronto than in any other city in the world, and composer Debashis Sinha captures a sample of this vast array of voices in an every evolving sound track designed expressly for this on-going choreographic project.
